Early Risers

THE FAMOUS LITTLE PILLS.

For quick relief from Biliousness, Sick Headache, Torpid Liver, Jaundice, Dizziness, and all troubles arising from an inactive or sluggish liver, Dr. Williams' Little Early Risers are unequalled.

They act promptly and never gripe. They are so dainty that it is a pleasure to take them. One to two act as a mild laxative; two or four act as a pleasant and effective cathartic. They are purely vegetable and absolutely harmless. They tonic the liver.

To Distribute His Library.

St. Louis Republic: Senator Cookrell has completed plans for the distribution of his library, the largest and most valuable collection of public documents possessed by any Congressman or Senator. It comprises from 30,000 to 35,000 volumes, covering practically every subject of Public interest. The Senator will give it to libraries in the State and to his friends in Missouri as a legacy of his long service. The books will be sent West in the near future.

The books have been stored in a special room in the Capitol. With more foresight than many of his colleagues he has preserved the surplus of the documents acquired by him, so that now complete sets of very desirable books are available for distribution.

Upwards of 300 volumes will be given to the libraries at Hannibal, Kansas City, Joplin, St. Louis, St. Joseph, Sedalia and Jefferson City.

The State University will be particularly well treated. Other schools to be recipients are the three State normal institutions, Missouri Valley College at Marshall, the Washington University, Park College at Parkville and the School of Mines at Rolla.

It will be the largest distribution ever made by a man in the public service.

The books cover a vast range of subjects and incorporate many phases of the history of the country since the war. Complete sets of the agriculture year books are among the most valuable in the collection. These afford a thorough and scientific report of the growth of the American agriculture since 1874, from which time the year books date. Other documents are the messages and papers of the Presidents, report by the American Historical Society and the Smithsonian Institution, the State papers of Jefferson, Madison and Monroe and reports of exploration trips into foreign possessions of the United States and parts of this country. General subjects treated deal with our commerce, ethnology, geology, astronomy, the tariff, various industries and diplomatic matters of a wide range. Miscellaneous volumes are Greeley's search for the North Pole, Schley's search for Greely, the Schley Court of inquiry, African slave trade, reports on the Roentgen ray, a nautical almanac, a Philippine gazetteer and a work on the war between Chile, Peru and Bolivia.

As a storehouse of valuable references, probably nothing like its equal lies within the gift of any other man in the United States.

DON'T BE HYPNOTISED.

Hoodwinked, hoodooed, or over-persuaded into accepting a substitute for Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription with its record of nearly 40 years, embracing hundreds of thousands of cures of woman's peculiar ailments. It's the only remedy for woman's ills sold by druggists, that is not full of "booster" poor whisky, or bad alcohol.

A guarantee of $1000 is offered that "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, opium or other harmful drug. Keeps in any climate. "Favorite Prescription" is a powerful invigorating tonic, and imparts strength to the whole system and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to attempt to palm off upon you an alcoholic substitute for this world-famous medicine. You know what you want. It's his business to meet that want. When he urges some substitute he's thinking of the larger profit he'll make—not of your welfare.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY. In copies of Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 500,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away 50,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away 50,000 worth of them. Will you share in the benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for book in stiff paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

If out of health, write to old Dr. Pierce. He will send you good, fatherly, professional advice without charge. These sugar-coated little pills are the easiest to take, and the easiest in the way they act. No griping, no violence, no disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. They are the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by Dr. R. V. Pierce, over 40 years ago. They have been much imitated but never equalled. They come in vials, always fresh and reliable; a convenient vest-pocket remedy.

The Author Of The Country Home.

E. P. Powell, author of "The Country Home" (McClure-Phillips), was especially inspired to the writing of his book by his desire to spread as far as possible his enthusiasm for the joys of country living. The book, he hopes, will counteract what he considers the evil tendency towards congestion in population in the cities, and give proper direction to the emigration countryward. He believes in country life especially for brain workers; and declares that they can live in the country, have lovely fruitful homes, and at the same time improve their literary output. He is championing in America ideas similar to those that Rider Haggard, author of "The Brethren," is championing in England. Mr. Haggard has long been carrying on a propaganda for the development of rural England, and the emptying of the congested districts of London, Birmingham and other big cities into the country side.

Cattle Die of Hydrophobia.

Concordia: Mr. J. H. Kuhlman, who lives south of this city, was in town Monday and formed the Concordia that he had lost seven head of cattle, which had died of hydrophobia. A mad dog came to his farm about six weeks ago and bit several of his cows and since that time he lost seven head of cattle. The dog, which belongs to a neighbor, was roving around during the night but day time he was at home. Mr. Kuhlman gives the following symptoms of cattle sick with hydrophobia. At first the animals slobber and foam, then they show fits when brought near water, and occasionally fall. They try to butt hogs, chickens and other cows and at last fall over and die. During the entire time of illness (which lasts about nine days) they sound a pitiful low bawl, day and night, until they are unable to utter another sound.
